CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Plaintiff Prinzo & Associates, LLC (“Prinzo” or “Plaintiff”) brings this Class Action Complaint and Demand for Jury Trial against BMO Harris Bank, N.A. (“BMO Harris Bank”), Defendant BMO Financial Corp. (“BMO Financial” and, together with BMO Harris Bank, “Defendants”) and Does 1 through 100, inclusive (collectively “Defendants”), seeking compensation from Defendants, who refuse to comply with the CARES Act that requires it to pay out of the compensation it received for processing PPP loans, for services Plaintiff Prinzo and a large number of other agents rendered on behalf of recipients of Small Business Administration (“SBA”) emergency loans. Plaintiff alleges as follows upon personal knowledge as to itself and its own acts and experiences, and, as to all other matters, upon information and belief.

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. In response to the shut-down of virtually every business across all non-essential industries due to COVID-19, the federal government has raced over the past few months to ease the impact of the shut-down on the U.S. economy. In order to keep afloat small businesses, and to encourage those businesses to avoid massive worker layoffs and furloughs further damaging the economy, Congress decided to create an economic relief program to distribute money to small businesses.

2. In order to distribute the money swiftly to small businesses, Congress decided to utilize the nation's financial institutions to take applications and distribute the funds that would be fully guaranteed by the federal government. However, in order to avoid delay, Congress decided that the financial institutions would not be required to verify the accuracy of the applications. Instead, the burden to provide accurate information was put directly and solely on the small businesses submitting applications.

3. The applications would need to be simple and the amount of the economic relief would be based on historical payroll information with specific limitations. However, as the lenders would not be verifying the information, there would need to be a number of representations and certifications, and specific warnings because that failure to provide true and accurate information could subject the small business owner to five years in prison and a $250,000 fine.

4. In order for these small businesses to be able to make timely, truthful and accurate applications, Congress understood that small businesses would need assistance from the nation's professional accountants, tax preparers, financial advisors, attorneys, and other such agents normally relied upon by small businesses.

5. On March 27, 2020, Congress passed the SBA's Paycheck Protection Program ("PPP") which initially authorized up to $349 billion in forgivable loans to small businesses to cover payroll and other expenses (PPP I). After the initial funds quickly dried up, Congress added $310 billion additional dollars to the program (PPP II).

6. The PPP was designed to be fast and straightforward, allowing business to apply through SBA-approved lenders and await approval. Once approved, lenders would be compensated in the form of a generous origination fee paid by the federal government, with the requirement that the lender would be responsible for paying the fee owed to the loan applicant's agent (e.g., attorney or accountant). Both the lender and the agents were specifically forbidden by the PPP from charging the small business borrower any amounts for the loan or the assistance in preparing the application for the loan. The amount of the total compensation and the allocation between the lender and the agents assisting the borrowers in preparing the application was specifically set out in the PPP. For the majority of loans (those under $350,000), the lender would receive an amount equal to 5% of the loan as compensation, and if the borrower used an agent such as a CPA or accountant, the lender was to pay an amount equal to 1% of the loan amount to the agent. In other words, compensation from the federal government to the lender and the borrower's agent was allocated as 80% to the lender and 20% to the CPA or attorney assisting the small business borrower.

7. Defendants are part of one of the largest banking groups in North America. They have hundreds of branches and specialize in, inter alia, small business banking. Defendants reported that they successfully processed more than 10,000 applications totaling over $4.4 billion in borrowed funds during the first round of funding (PPP I).¹ Defendants also participated in the second phase of funding, PPP II. The average PPP loan approved by Defendants in PPP I was approximately $440,000. Assuming a conservative average fee of four percent, they have, accordingly, been allocated over $176 million in origination fees, from which they were required to pay the agents who assisted the borrowers in submitting applications.

8. However, Defendants apparently decided that they do not need to complete the final step of the process. They have refused to pay the agents who assisted PPP loan recipients with their applications. Although applicable PPP regulations require Defendants to pay agents who assist clients with loan applications, Defendants' practice reflects a deliberate, firm-wide practice that is not the result of oversight or inadvertence. Indeed, Defendants brazenly assert that they "will not accept applications that are prepared by or with assistance of agents."² This refusal is harming accountants, attorneys, and other agents who dropped everything (in the midst of tax season) to assist their customers in filling out these vital loan applications correctly and in compliance with the PPP, and who were specifically only allowed to be paid for these services out of the compensation paid to the lender. The Defendants' failure to pay agents is in blatant violation of PPP regulations stating that agent fees "will be paid by the lender out of the fees the lender receives from SBA."

9. These agents, including Plaintiff, have no other recourse for collecting fees for assisting borrowers on PPP loan applications because the PPP regulations delegate the responsibility for paying agents to the lenders alone. And yet, Defendants have disregarded the regulations and refused to pay agents who assisted small businesses in receiving PPP funds.

10. Plaintiff has been harmed by Defendants' practice. As a CPA firm that does payroll and other small business support functions, Plaintiff assisted a small business client who submitted an application to Defendants and was then funded through the PPP program. Based on information and belief, Defendants have received the 5% compensation related to that loan, but have not paid Plaintiff its 1% agent fee related to the loan.

11. As a result of Defendants' acts and omissions, Plaintiff and a large number of others like it have been deprived of payment for their critical work in supporting their clients' PPP loan applications. As such, Plaintiff brings this Class Action Complaint and Demand for Jury Trial in order to vindicate its rights and those of agents everywhere who are similarly situated, and to force Defendants to account for their blatant violation of the PPP and to pay agents their portion of the compensation.

PARTIES

12. Plaintiff Prinzo & Associates is a Certified Public Accounting ("CPA") firm organized under the laws of Pennsylvania, with its principal place of business located in McMurray, Pennsylvania.

13. Defendant BMO Harris Bank, N.A., is a chartered national banking association headquartered in Chicago, Illinois. BMO Harris Bank focuses on commercial and retail lending from over 500 locations in numerous states around the country. BMO Harris Bank is a subsidiary of the Bank of Montreal, which owns BMO Harris Bank through the U.S. bank holding company BMO Harris Financial Corp.

14. Defendant BMO Harris Financial Corp. is a Delaware entity, and the U.S. holding company of Defendant BMO Harris Bank. BMO Harris Financial is headquartered in Chicago, Illinois. Together, Defendants are North America's eighth largest bank by assets, reporting over $300 billion of assets as of Q1 2020.

15. In this Complaint, references made to any act of any Defendant shall be deemed to mean that officers, directors, agents, employees, or representatives of the Defendants named in this lawsuit committed or authorized such acts, or failed and/or omitted to adequately supervise or properly control or direct their employees while engaged in the management, direction, operation or control of the affairs of the Defendants and did so while acting within the scope of their employment or agency.

16. Plaintiff is unaware of the names, identities or capacities of the Defendants sued as Doe Defendants 1 through 100, but is informed and believes and thereon alleges that such fictitiously-named defendants are responsible in some manner for the damages and unfair business practices and violation of rights as described herein. Plaintiff will amend this Complaint to state the true names, identities, or capacities of such fictitiously-named Defendants when ascertained.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

17. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d), because, as to the proposed Class and Subclasses, (a) at least one member of the proposed Class, which consists of at least 100 members, is a citizen of a different state than Defendants; (b) the claims of the proposed Class Members exceed $5,000,000 in the aggregate, exclusive of interest and costs, and (c) none of the exceptions under that subsection apply to this action.

18. Personal jurisdiction over Defendants is proper because Defendants transact business in the State of Illinois, and a substantial number of the events giving rise to the claims alleged herein took place in Illinois.

19. This Court has jurisdiction to grant declaratory relief under 28 U.S.C. § 2201 because an actual controversy exists between the parties as to their respective rights and obligations under 85 Fed. Reg. 20816 § (4)(c) (hereinafter, the “PPP regulations”).

20. Venue is proper in this judicial District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) because a substantial part of the events, acts or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred in this judicial District, and Defendants are headquartered in this judicial District.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

21. The spread of COVID-19 was declared a pandemic by the World Health Organization (“WHO”) on March 11, 2020.

22. On March 13, 2020, President Donald Trump issued the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Emergency Declaration, which declared that the pandemic was of “sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant an emergency declaration for all states, territories and the District of Columbia.”

23. The Federal Government expressly recognized that with the COVID-19 emergency, “many small businesses nationwide are experiencing economic hardship as a direct result of the Federal, State and local public health measures that are being taken to minimize the public’s exposure to the virus.”³

³ See Business Loan Program Temporary Changes; Paycheck Protection Program, 13 CFR Part 120, Interim Final Rule (“SBA PPP Final Rule”).

24. The economic fallout from COVID-19, and the national response to it, was immediate and enormous. As “stay at home” issues were ordered by states across the nation, countless businesses were forced by law to overhaul their business models, scale back their business dramatically, or shutter—either temporarily or permanently. Business were further harmed as the public began to avoid all public spaces. Furloughs and layoffs were rampant in the private sector.

25. On March 25, 2020, in response to the economic damage caused by the COVID-19 crisis and to overwhelming public pressure, the U.S. Senate passed the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, or the CARES Act. The CARES Act was passed by the House of Representatives the following day and signed into law by President Trump on March 27, 2020. Amounting to approximately $2 trillion, the CARES Act was the single-largest economic stimulus bill in American history.

26. Critically, the CARES Act created a $659 billion loan program for business with fewer than five hundred employees, called the “Paycheck Protection Program” (“PPP”).⁴ The goal of the PPP was to provide American small businesses with eight weeks of cash-flow assistance, with a certain percentage forgivable if utilized to retain employees and fund payrolls. The loans are fully federally guaranteed and administered by the Small Business Administration (“SBA”).⁵

27. Basically, PPP loans operate more like grants if the recipient follows certain rules, including that at least 75 percent of the loan goes toward payroll.⁶ Businesses that follow the rules are permitted to submit a request to their SBA lender for total forgiveness. Otherwise, the loan matures in two years and carries a one percent interest rate.⁷

⁴ The first phase of the PPP was for $349 billion, and when that quickly ran out, a second phase was funded for $310 billion.

⁵ Small Bus. Admin., Docket No. SBA-2020-0015, 13 CFR Part 120, Paycheck Protection Program 3245-AH34, Interim Final Rule, 85 Fed. Reg. 20814 § (2)(o) (Apr. 15, 2020).

28. The SBA was charged with creating the PPP implementing regulations. It issued the first interim final rule (“Initial Rule”) on April 2, 2020, allowing businesses to begin applying for PPP loans with all SBA lenders on April 3, 2020.

29. An important piece of the PPP was that applications were to be processed and funded on a “first-come, first-served” basis—that is, the SBA was to process applications and distribute funds based on the order in which they were received. This made the SBA’s list of approved lenders key gatekeepers in this process, which the lenders certainly understood. Because the PPP was to be administered only through SBA-approved lenders, and because applicants were applying for funds from the single pot allocated for the program, submitting an accurate application for a loan through the SBA-approved lender as quickly as possible was critical.

30. Congress added an incentive for the SBA-affiliated lenders, knowing they would face a crush of PPP loan applications: for each loan processed and approved, the bank would receive an origination fee of five percent for loans up to $350,000; three percent for loans between $350,000 and $2 million; and one percent for loans between $2 million and $10 million.⁸

31. With similar incentives in mind, Congress and the SBA also carved out a specific benefit for the countless accountants, attorneys, and advisors who would need to lead or assist their clients in preparing and filing PPP loan applications. These individuals and entities are referred to as “agents” in the CARES Act and PPP implementing regulations.

32. As explained in an Information Sheet provided for “lenders,” the SBA states that “[a]n ‘Agent’ is an authorized representative and can be: an attorney; an accountant; a consultant; someone who prepares an applicant’s application for financial assistance and is employed and compensated by the applicant; someone who assists a lender with originating, disbursing, servicing, liquidating, or litigating SBA loans; a loan broker; or any other individual or entity representing an applicant by conducting business with the SBA.”⁹

33. In addition, the SBA Regulations provide that “Agent fees will be paid out of lender fees. The lender will pay the agent. Agents may not collect any fees from the applicant. The total amount that an agent may collect from the lender for assistance in preparing an application for a PPP” loan is as follows (“Agent Fees”): one percent (1%) for loans up to $350,000; 0.50% for loans between $350,000 and $2 million; and 0.25% for loans between $2 million and $10 million.¹⁰

34. Within this context, Congress and the SBA set up a straightforward system for the disbursement of PPP loan funds where the applicant is assisted by an agent: (i) the agent prepares the application and/or necessary supporting documents for the client’s application; (ii) the client applies for the PPP loan through the lender; (iii) the lender submits the application to the SBA; (iv) the SBA approves the loan and sends the client the money, through the lender, and eventually pays the lender’s origination fee; and (v) the agent submits the request for fee payment to the lender with the agent's fee based upon (a) the work performed for the client and (b) the caps on agent fees provided by the SBA's PPP regulations.

35. Unfortunately, Defendants are refusing to pay the fees of agents for their assistance in providing an accurate and truthful application for funding.

36. This refusal is a company-wide policy. Indeed, Defendants assert that they "will not accept applications that are prepared by or with assistance of agents."¹¹ Defendants make no similar requirement of their other lending as a "preferred" SBA lender.¹²

37. This policy of refusal to pay to agents "Agent Fees" that are due, and that only the lenders are authorized to pay, stands as an immediate threat to these agents' abilities to receive payment. In the midst of an unprecedented economic/pandemic crisis, this policy represents short-sighted profit-padding at best, and blatantly illegal conduct, at worst.

38. This policy stands in stark contrast to Defendants' public statements touting BMO Harris Bank as a "preferred" SBA lender and that it succeeded in securing SBA approval for $4.4 billion in total funding for more than 10,000 borrowers during the first phase of PPP funding.¹³

39. Refusing to pay Agent Fees is also inconsistent with agreements Defendants made in order to become approved PPP lenders. Specifically, based on information and belief,

Defendants were required to execute the “CARES Act Section 1102 Lender Agreement” for each loan.¹⁴ This submission requires each putative PPP lender to certify, under penalty of perjury, that it (i) “is in compliance and will maintain compliance with all applicable requirements of the [PPP], and PPP Loan Program Requirements[,]” (ii) will “service and liquidate all covered loans made under the Paycheck Protection Program in accordance with PPP Loan Requirements[,] and (iii) will “close and disburse each covered loan in accordance with the terms and conditions of the PPP Authorization and PPP Loan Requirements.”

40. To the extent Defendants had to certify, at any point, that they would follow the PPP’s regulations in making PPP loans, they were not being truthful. Defendants’ policy to refuse to pay Agent Fees directly violates the PPP’s implementing regulations.

41. It is pursuant to these representations that BMO Harris Bank was able to process over 10,000 PPP applications worth over $4.4 billion during just the first round of funding. BMO Harris Bank also processed PPP loans during the second round of PPP funding, until it stopped accepting new applications effective April 28, 2020. Even just among the first phase loans, Defendants’ average loan was approximately $440,000. Assuming a conservative average fee of four percent, Defendants have, accordingly, been allocated over $176 million in origination fees, from which they were required to pay agents.

42. Knowing that they were required to pay agents a percentage of PPP loan origination fees if an agent assisted an applicant in preparing and submitting the application, Defendants elected not to ask borrowers whether they utilized an “agent” to assist them in the application process and have not paid Plaintiff or similarly situated agents compensation from funded PPP loans.

PLAINTIFF PRINZO & ASSOCIATES' EXPERIENCE

43. Plaintiff Prinzo & Associates is a Pennsylvania CPA firm which has provided financial services to clients in sixteen different states and four different countries since 1991, including bookkeeping, taxation, payroll services, and financial planning and consulting for small businesses and individuals. In March, Plaintiff became aware that the CARES Act had been signed into law. Plaintiff, knowing that the COVID-19 crisis would significantly impact clients' businesses, sought to obtain PPP loans through various SBA-approved lenders on behalf of clients.

44. Plaintiff's professionals spent considerable time familiarizing themselves with the Act and the related SBA Regulations, in particular, (a) Section 1102, which permits the SBA to guarantee 100% of Section 7(a) loans under the PPP, and (b) Section 1106 of the Act, which provides forgiveness of up to the full principal amount of qualifying loans guaranteed under the PPP.

45. In or about March, April, and May, 2020, Plaintiff assisted many clients in the gathering and analysis of their documents, as well as the calculations and preparation of the loan applications.

46. Based on the SBA Regulations, Plaintiff understood that it was not allowed to charge clients a fee relating to the application process. The agents were only allowed to receive compensation from the agents' share of the estimated $20 billion in fees that the Federal Government paid the Lenders for originating the PPP loans.

47. For its clients, Plaintiff had the primary role in calculating the payroll information needed for the application, and providing the clients' accounting information, advice, and documentation in support of the PPP loan application. Plaintiff will have ongoing responsibility for advising clients on the forgiveness of the PPP loan.

48. Plaintiff provided all of these services to a client who obtained a PPP loan from BMO Harris Bank in the amount of $13,583. Based on information and belief, BMO Harris Bank was paid or will be paid, an origination fee of $679.15, of which Plaintiff is entitled to $135.83 (1% of total loan amount) of that fee for its work as the agent of the borrower in submitting the application and documentation.

49. Defendants did not comply with the SBA Regulations because they have not paid Plaintiff the agent fees to which it is entitled despite awarding PPP loans to Plaintiff's client for whom Plaintiff acted as a PPP agent. Instead, Defendants retained all of the Agent Fees for themselves.

50. As a result of Defendants' unlawful and unfair actions, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered financial harm by being deprived of the statutorily mandated compensation for the professional services provided to clients in assisting them with obtaining PPP loans.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

51. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of itself and all others similarly situated as a nationwide Class, defined as follows:

All persons and businesses who served as an agent in relation to, and provided assistance to a client in relation to, the preparation and/or submission of a client's PPP loan application to BMO Harris Bank which resulted in a loan being funded under the PPP. Plaintiff further brings this action on behalf of a subclass of individuals defined as follows:

Illinois Subclass. All persons and businesses in Illinois who served as an agent in relation to, and provided assistance to a client in relation to, the preparation and/or submission of a client's PPP loan application to BMO Harris Bank which resulted in a loan being funded under the PPP.

52. Excluded from this Class and Subclass (hereinafter "the Class" unless otherwise indicated) are: (1) any Judge or Magistrate presiding over this action and members of their families; (2) Defendants, Defendants' subsidiaries, parents, successors, predecessors, and any entity in which Defendants or its parents have a controlling interest and its current or former employees, officers and directors; (3) persons who properly execute and file a timely request for exclusion from the Class; (4) persons whose claims in this matter have been finally adjudicated on the merits of otherwise released; (5) Plaintiff's counsel and Defendants' counsel; and (6) the legal representatives, successors, and assigns of any such excluded persons.

53. Plaintiff reserves the right to expand, limit, modify, or amend this Class definition, including the addition of one or more subclasses, in connection with Plaintiff's motion for class certification, or any other time, based upon new facts obtained during discovery.

54. Numerosity: The Class is composed of hundreds of Agents ("Class Members") whose joinder in this action would be impracticable. The disposition of their claims through this class action will benefit all Class Members, the parties, and the courts.

55. Commonality and Predominance: There is a commonality in questions of law and fact affecting the Class. These questions of law and fact predominate over individual questions affecting individual Class Members, including, but not limited to, the following:

- a. Whether Defendants' conduct violates the CARES Act and/or its implementing regulations;
- b. Whether Defendants are required to compensate Plaintiff out of the origination fees obtained from SBA through the PPP;

- c. Whether Plaintiff is entitled to compensation by Defendants for its work assisting in its client's PPP loan application;
- d. Whether Defendants' conduct was willful and knowing;
- e. Whether Defendants submission of completed Form 2484 constituted an agreement;
- f. Whether Defendants breached that agreement;
- g. Whether Defendants' conduct was pursuant to a company-wide policy or policies; and
- h. Whether Defendants' conduct constitutes unjust enrichment.

56. Superiority: This case is also appropriate for class certification because class proceedings are superior to all other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy given that joinder of all parties is impracticable. The damages suffered by the individual members of the Class will likely be relatively small, especially given the burden and expense of individual prosecution of the complex litigation necessitated by Defendants' actions. Thus, it would be difficult and not economical for the individual members of the Class to obtain effective relief from Defendants' misconduct. Even if members of the Class could sustain such individual litigation, it would still not be preferable to a class action, because individual litigation would increase the delay and expense to all parties due to the complex legal and factual controversies presented in this Complaint. By contrast, a class action presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court. Economies of time, effort and expense will be fostered and uniformity of decisions ensured.

57. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of, and are not antagonistic to, the claims of all Class Members, in that Plaintiff and members of the Class sustained damages arising out of Defendants' uniform wrongful conduct.

58. Adequacy: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the Class and has retained counsel with substantial experience in litigating complex cases, including consumer fraud and class actions. Plaintiff's claims are representative of the claims of the other members of the Class. That is, Plaintiff and members of the Class sustained damages as a result of Defendants' uniform conduct. Plaintiff also has no interests antagonistic to those of the Class, and Defendants have no defenses unique to Plaintiff. Both Plaintiff and its counsel will vigorously prosecute this action on behalf of the Class and have the financial ability to do so. Neither Plaintiff nor counsel have any interest adverse to other Class Members.

59. Ascertainability: Plaintiff is informed and believes that Defendants keep extensive computerized records of their loan applications through, inter alia, computerized loan application systems and federally-mandated record-keeping practices. Defendants have one or more databases through which all of the borrowers may be identified and ascertained, and it maintains contact information, including electronic mail and mailing address. From this information, the existence of the Class Members (i.e., borrowers' Agents) can be determined, and thereafter, a notice of this action can be disseminated in accordance with due process requirements.

60. Defendants have acted, and refused to act, on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making appropriate final equitable relief with respect to the Class as a whole.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT I – DECLARATORY RELIEF

61. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

62. Plaintiff and the Class represent individuals who are “agents” as defined by the SBA regulations for the PPP.

63. Plaintiff and the putative Class have assisted clients with the process of preparing applications, and applying for, PPP loan funds. Defendants, despite the clear command of the SBA’s PPP regulations, have refused to make these payments. An actual controversy has arisen between Plaintiff and the Class, on one hand, and Defendants on the other, wherein Defendants deny by their refusal to pay that they are obligated to pay Plaintiff’s and the Class’s “agent” fees pursuant to PPP regulations.

64. Plaintiff and the Class seek a declaration, in accordance with SBA regulations and pursuant to the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201, that Defendants are obligated to set aside money to pay, and pay third-party agents –within the SBA-approved limits—for the work performed on behalf of a client in relation to the preparation and/or submission of a PPP loan application that resulted in a funded PPP loan.

COUNT II – BREACH OF CONTRACT, THIRD PARTY BENEFICIARY

65. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

66. Based on information and belief, Defendants entered into an agreement with the SBA in connection with the loans funded in the PPP.

67. The agreements required that Defendants would adhere to all PPP rules and regulations and incorporate these requirements by reference. Defendants and the SBA understood that agents involved in the preparation and submission of PPP loan applications would need to be compensated.

68. The SBA's PPP regulations specifically require that PPP lenders pay the fees of any "agent" that assists with the PPP loan application process, within limits.

69. Defendants understood that Plaintiff and the Class were intended beneficiaries in this agreement. Nevertheless, Defendants have refused to live up to their end of the bargain, and have uniformly refused to pay agent fees to Plaintiff and the Class.

70. By refusing to pay agent fees in accordance with SBA regulations, Defendants are violating the terms of their agreement, thereby damaging Plaintiff and the Class. Plaintiff and the class thus ask this Court to award them damages sufficient to make them whole, and compensate them for work they did in preparing clients' PPP loan application for loans that were funded, consequential damages, and all other damages available at law.

COUNT III - VIOLATIONS OF THE ILLINOIS CONSUMER FRAUD AND DECEPTIVE BUSINESSES PRACTICES ACT
(815 ILCS 505 et seq.)

71. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

72. The Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act (ICFA) declares unlawful any use or employment of any unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce. 815 ILCS 505/2 et seq.

73. The SBA's PPP regulations specifically provide that "lenders" who provide loans under the program will be responsible for paying "agent" fees, within prescribed limits.

74. Defendants have uniformly refused to pay these fees to Plaintiff and the Class. As a result, Defendants have engaged in unlawful conduct that has cost Plaintiff and the Class millions of dollars in fees, collectively.

75. Defendants have represented that they were processing SBA's PPP loans in a lawful manner, consistent with the PPP laws and regulations. In refusing to pay agent fees as set forth in the PPP loan regulations, Defendants render these representations materially false.

76. Defendants have also engaged in "unfair" business practice through this conduct, as well as set forth above.

77. Defendants' conduct implicates consumer protection concerns generally.

78. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing acts and practices, Defendants have received, or will receive, income, profits, and other benefits, which they would not have received if they had not engaged in the violations of the ICFA described in this Complaint.

79. Because Plaintiff and the Class have been harmed by Defendants' deceptive and unfair business practice of refusing to pay agents who assist in the preparation and submission of PPP loan application materials, Plaintiff asks that they be held liable for restitution, be enjoined from further refusing to pay such agent fees, and that Plaintiff be awarded all other such relief available by law.

COUNT IV – UNJUST ENRICHMENT

80. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

81. Unjust enrichment, or restitution, may be alleged where a Defendant unjustly obtains and retains a benefit to the Plaintiff's detriment, where such retention violates fundamental principles of equity, justice, and good conscience.

82. Here, Defendants have obtained millions of dollars in benefits in the form of PPP loan origination fees. A portion of those fees were to be paid to agents, like and including Plaintiff, who assisted in their clients' PPP loan applications. But Defendants are refusing to pay those fees, in contravention of PPP regulations.

83. Principles of justice, equity, and good conscience demand that Defendants not be allowed to retain these agent fees. Defendants have fallen short in their duties as lenders, and during a crisis no less. As a result, Plaintiff and the putative Class have been unable to obtain the agent fees due to them.

84. Accordingly, Defendants must disgorge the portion of any and all PPP origination fees that they have retained to the extent they are due to Plaintiff and the putative Class in their capacities as agents.

COUNT V – CONVERSION

85. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

86. Under the SBA regulations, Plaintiff and the Class, as PPP agents, have a right to agent fees that must be paid from the amount of lender fees provided to Defendants for processing the funded PPP loan applications of Plaintiff's client and the Class's clients.

87. The SBA regulations state that “[a]gent fees will be paid out of lender fees” and provide guidelines on the amount of agent fees that should be paid to the PPP agent, based upon the size of the PPP loan.

88. Additionally, the SBA regulations require that lenders, not loan recipients, pay the agent fees. The SBA regulations unequivocally state that “[a]gents may not collect fees from the applicant.”

89. Plaintiff and the Class assisted clients with applying for PPP loans, including gathering and curating information necessary for completing PPP loan applications that were subsequently funded. Due to Plaintiff's and the Class's efforts, their clients were awarded PPP loans, through applications made with Defendants. As such, Plaintiff has a right to immediate possession of the agent fees.

90. Although Plaintiff is entitled to agent fees under the SBA regulations, Defendants have refused to provide those fees to Plaintiff and the class, thus keeping the agent fees that were paid to it for purposes of being passed on to the agents. By withholding these fees, Defendants have maintained wrongful control over Plaintiff's property inconsistent with Plaintiff's entitlements under the SBA regulations.

91. Defendants committed civil conversion by retaining monies owed to Plaintiff and Class members.

92. Plaintiff and the Class have been injured as a direct and proximate cause of Defendants' misconduct. Plaintiffs, as such, seek recovery from Defendants in the amount of the owed agent fees, and all other relief afforded under the law.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff Prinzo & Associates, LLC, individually and on behalf of the Class, respectfully prays for the following relief:

(a) An order certifying the Class as defined above, appointing Plaintiff as the representative of the Class, and appointing its counsel as Class Counsel;

(b) An order declaring that Defendants' actions, as set out above, constitute unjust enrichment, conversion, breach of contract on behalf of third-party beneficiary, violate the ICFA, 815 ILCS 505/1 et seq., and violate the SBA's PPP regulations;

(c) An award of all economic, monetary, actual, consequential, compensatory, and punitive damages available under the law and caused by Defendants' conduct, including without limitation, actual damages for past, present and future expenses caused by Defendants' misconduct, lost time and interest, and all other damages suffered, including any damages likely to be incurred by Plaintiff and the Class;

(d) An award of reasonable litigation expenses and attorneys' fees;

(e) An award of pre- and post-judgment interest, to the extent allowable;

(f) The entry of an injunction and/or declaratory relief as necessary to protect the interests of the Plaintiff and the Class; and

(g) Such other further relief that the Court deems reasonable and just.
