CASE NO.
CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT
DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff Terri Bruschi (“Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of all other persons similarly 2 situated, and through her attorneys of record, alleges the following against Defendants Google, LLC 3 (“Google LLC”) and Google Payment Corp. (“GPC”) (together, “Google” or “Defendants”), based 4 upon personal knowledge with respect to herself, on information and belief derived from 5 investigation of counsel, and review of public documents as to all other matters.

6 INTRODUCTION

7 1. This is a class action arising from Google’s profiting from illegal gambling games 8 developed by Grande Games Limited (“Grande Games”) and offered, sold, and distributed by 9 Google through its Google Play Store (“Google Play”) for consumers to download and play. Google 10 offers, sells, and distributes casino-style slot machines, casino-style table games, and other common 11 gambling games to consumers through Google Play, which, for the reasons set forth herein, 12 constitutes illegal gambling pursuant to the law of various states.

13 PARTIES

14 2. Plaintiff is an adult citizen and resident of the state of Virginia.

15 3. Google LLC is a Delaware limited liability company with its principal place of 16 business in Mountain View, California. Google LLC is the primary operating subsidiary of the 17 publicly traded holding company, Alphabet Inc.

18 4. GPC is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Mountain 19 View, California. GPC provides in-app payment processing services to Android app developers and 20 consumers through Google Play. Google requires app developers who distribute their apps on 21 Google Play to use its billing system if they offer in-app purchases of digital goods, and to pay a 22 service fee from a percentage of the purchase, as explained in detail below.¹

23 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

24 5. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act 25 of 2005 (“CAFA”), 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d). The amount in controversy exceeds the sum of $5,000,000 26 exclusive of interest and costs, there are more than 100 putative class members, and minimal

1 purged many Apps from Google Play, but the number of Apps has risen back to over 3 million.⁶

2 12. Apps are available through Google Play either free of charge or at a cost. They can 3 be downloaded directly on an Android device through the proprietary Google Play mobile app or 4 by deploying the App to a device from the Google Play website.⁷

5 13. Certain Apps are initially free to download (i.e., “free-to-play”), but offer additional 6 content or services for sale within the App, otherwise known as “in-app purchases,” that consumers
7 can purchase while using the App.⁸

8 14. Android consumers who want to purchase an App or make in-app purchases through 9 Google Play must pay money directly to Google (through GPC), which provides the payment 10 interface.⁹ Google consumers must register a valid method of payment to make payments to GPC 11 for any purchases made through Google Play (including in-app purchases).¹⁰

12 15. Likewise, Google mandates that App developers who distribute their Apps on 13 Google Play must use Google Play’s billing system as the method of payment if they offer in-app 14 purchases of digital goods, and to pay a service fee from a percentage of the purchase.¹¹ Google is 15 contractually obligated to these App developers to facilitate a transaction between the developers 16 and end users, for which it earns a commission.¹² Specifically, Google retains a service fee from 17 sales of Apps and in-app purchases offered through Google Play equivalent to 30% of the payment.
18 The developer, here, Grande Games, receives 70% of the payment.¹³

19 16. The Apps referenced herein could not be downloaded by Google consumers, and 20 Google consumers would not be able to make in-app purchases in these Apps, without Google’s

1 offering and distributing of the Apps (and selling of coins through in-app purchases) through Google 2 Play.

3 17. Google also provides marketing guidance, tools, promotional offers, and more to 4 help drive discovery of Apps and in-app purchases.¹⁴ For example, Google offers App Campaigns
5 to promote Apps through Google Play and ensure that developers' Apps are shown to consumers 6 who are most likely to drive the Apps' business by optimizing installations and engagement.¹⁵

7 18. In fact, Google even advises developers that it may "run promotional activities 8 offering coupons, credits, and/or other promotional incentives for paid transactions and/or user 9 actions for Your Products and in-app transactions solely in connection with Google Play promotions 10 and, for gift card promotions, also on Google authorized third-party channels."¹⁶ Notably, these 11 promotional activities, which are aimed at increasing in-app purchases and increase Google's 12 profits, are provided by Google to developers free of charge.¹⁷

13 19. Google and Grande Games are both responsible for the creation or development of 14 the Apps at issue here. Google reassures its developers that they will work together as a team: "Your 15 innovation is what drives our shared success, but with it comes responsibility. These Developer 16 Program Policies, along with the Developer Distribution Agreement, ensure that together we 17 continue to deliver the world's most innovative and trusted apps to over a billion people through 18 Google Play...."¹⁸

19 Casino-Style Apps Offered Through Google Play

20 20. Google permits and facilitates illegal gambling by operating as an unlicensed casino.

21 21. Google sells, offers, and distributes several free-to-play casino-style games (i.e., slot 22 machines and casino-style table games) developed by Grande Games through Google Play ("Grande 23 Games Casino Apps") for consumers to download and play, including, but not limited to, Cash

1 Frenzy Casino and Lotsa Slots.

2 22. When a consumer downloads and initially opens a Grande Games Casino App, the 3 consumer is given free “coins” or “chips” to start with, i.e., 100,000 or 1,000,000, to play the game.
4 The Grande Games Casino Apps work essentially like a casino slot machine or other Las Vegas-
5 style games like blackjack, roulette, poker, keno, bingo, and other card and gambling games. A loss 6 results in a loss of coins or chips, but the consumer has an opportunity to win additional coins or 7 chips. Ultimately, the consumer will run out of coins or chips and will be prompted to use real 8 money to purchase additional coins or chips for the chance to continue playing the game.

9 23. Consumers do not have the ability to collect actual cash as a result of “winning” 10 games, but they do have the ability to win and therefore acquire more playing time.

11 24. Paying money in a game for a chance to win more playing time violates the anti-12 gambling laws of the twenty-five states that are at issue in this case. See Ala. Code § 13A-12-20 22 25. In 2019, people in the United States lost approximately $3.5 billion playing “free-to-23 play” Apps like the Grande Games Casino Apps.¹⁹ Despite the fact these Grande Games Casino 24 Apps do not offer an opportunity to win real money or prizes, the money spent by consumers to 25 purchase additional coins or chips to continue playing the Apps can lead to devastating

1 consequences for those who get addicted.²⁰

2 26. A study analyzing “free-to-play” casino-style Apps stated:

3 [Researchers] found that [free-to-play] casino gamers share many similar 4 sociodemographic characteristics (e.g., employment, education, income) with online 5 gamblers. Given these similarities, it is perhaps not surprising that a strong predictor 6 of online gambling is engagement in [free-to-play] casino games. Putting a dark line 7 under these findings, over half (58.3%) of disordered gamblers who were seeking 8 treatment stated that social casino games were their first experiences with gambling.

9 ...

10 According to [another study], the purchase of virtual credits or virtual items makes 11 the activity of [free-to-play] casino gaming more similar to gambling. Thus, micro-12 transactions²¹ may be a crucial predictor in the migration to online gambling, as these 13 players have now crossed a line by paying to engage in these activities. Although, 14 [sic] only 1–5% of [free-to-play] casino gamers make micro-transactions, those who 15 purchase virtual credits spend an average of $78. Despite the limited numbers of 16 social casino gamers purchasing virtual credits, revenues from micro-transactions 17 account for 60% of all [free-to-play] casino gaming revenue. Thus, a significant 18 amount of revenue is based on players’ desire to purchase virtual credits above and 19 beyond what is provided to the player in seed credits.²²

20 27. Most of the revenue earned from these casino-style Apps (i.e., 80-90%) is made from 21 a small portion (i.e., about 3%) of their players, who are specifically targeted because of the large 22 amounts they will spend.²³

23 28. Nate Halverson, a journalist with Reveal from the Center for Investigative Reporting 24 said:

25 They’re using artificial intelligence to target those specific players who, like [a 26 woman] I reported on will spend $400,000. She didn't have $400,000.

27 In a regular casino, they would have seen that she didn't have the income to be 28 spending $400k. Further, she asked them nearly a dozen times to cut her off, told 29 them she had a problem, that she couldn't stop spending. And what did they do? They 30 just gave her free chips and encouraged her to keep spending. That wouldn't happen

1 in a real casino. This is a wild west; this is a lawless land.²⁴

2 29. Governments across the world have acted to limit the availability of micro-3 transaction-based games of chance (like the Grande Games Casino Apps) due to their similarity to 4 games of chance found in actual casinos.²⁵ Regrettably, such games have avoided regulation in the 5 United States, resulting in thousands of consumers spending millions of dollars to become addicted 6 to these unlawful games that they downloaded from Google Play, while Google earns a substantial 7 profit.

8 30. Since Google is responsible, in part, for the creation or development of the Grande 9 Games Casino Apps and provides the sole means by which Grande Games can offer, distribute, and 10 sell their Grande Games Casino Apps to Google consumers (i.e., through Google Play), Google 11 functions as an information content provider for the subject Grande Games Casino Apps.

12 31. Accordingly, Google actively enables, permits, promotes, and profits from illegal 13 gambling.

14 The History of Civil Remedy Statutes for Recovery of Gambling Losses

15 32. Purportedly, “[i]n the seventeenth and eighteenth centur[ies], gambling among the 16 British gentry was rampant.”²⁶ Problems were created for England’s land-based aristocracy because 17 of large transfers of wealth or property related to gambling. This problem apparently led the English 18 in 1710 to adopt “[a]n Act for the better preventing of excessive and deceitful gaming,” 9 Anne, ch.
19 14 (1710), which is known as the Statute of Anne (named after Britain’s then reigning Queen).²⁷

2 downloaded another Grande Games Casino App, Cash Frenzy Casino, on her Android device from 4 purchased coins through in-app purchases (paid directly to Google) so she could continue playing.

5 Plaintiff purchased coins in increments of $2.99 to $99.99 on multiple occasions. In just the 90 days 6 prior to the filing of this Complaint, Plaintiff paid over $100 in coin purchases to Google to continue 7 playing Cash Frenzy Casino.

8 37. Accordingly, Plaintiff, on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated, seeks to 9 recover money paid and lost due to gambling on the Grande Games Casino Apps pursuant to state

15 people have downloaded and played the subject Grande Games Gambling Apps. The members of 16 the Class can be readily identified through Google's records.

17 44. Commonality and Predominance. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2) and (b)(3). This action 18 involves common questions of law and fact that predominate over any questions affecting individual 19 Class members. The common questions include, but are not limited to:

- 20 a. Whether Defendants engaged in the conduct alleged herein;
- 21 b. Whether these virtually identical Grande Games Casino Apps offered and 22 distributed by Google for download and for sale of in-app purchases through Defendants' Google 23 Play violate the Civil Remedy Statutes for Recovery of Gambling Losses;
- 24 c. Whether gambling for additional playtime constitutes a thing of value under 25 the Civil Remedy Statutes for Recovery of Gambling Losses;
- 26 d. Whether Defendants violated the Civil Remedy Statutes for Recovery of 27 Gambling Losses through their active participation in the promotion and sale of in-app purchases 28 through Google Play;

1 e. Whether Plaintiff and the Class members are entitled to recover the money 2 they lost on the Grande Games Casino Apps under the Civil Remedy Statutes for Recovery of 3 Gambling Losses;

4 f. Whether Defendants have been unjustly enriched under applicable state laws; 5 and 6 g. Such other common factual and legal issues as are apparent from the 7 allegations and causes of action asserted in the Complaint.

8 45. Typicality. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3). Plaintiff's claims are typical of other Class 9 members' claims because Plaintiff and Class members were subjected to the same allegedly 10 unlawful conduct and damaged in the same way, i.e., they all lost money to Google in an effort to 11 win additional playtime on the Grande Games Casino Apps.

12 46. Adequacy. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4). Consistent with Rule 23(a)(4), Plaintiff will 13 fairly and adequately represent the Class. Plaintiff has the best interests of the members of the Class 14 in mind. Plaintiff has no conflicts of interest with the Class. Plaintiff's counsel are competent and 15 experienced in litigating class actions, including extensive experience in consumer protection 16 claims. Plaintiff intends to vigorously prosecute this case.

17 47. Superiority. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). A class action is superior to other available 18 methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of these claims because individual joinder of the 19 claims of all members of the Class is impracticable. Many members of the Class are without the 20 financial resources necessary to pursue this matter. Even if some could afford to litigate claims 21 separately, such a result would be unduly burdensome to the courts in which the individualized cases 22 would proceed. Individual litigation increases the time and expense of resolving a common dispute 23 concerning Defendants' actions toward an entire group of individuals. Class action procedures 24 allow for far fewer management difficulties in matters of this type and provide the unique benefits 25 of unitary adjudication, economies of scale, and comprehensive supervision over the entire 26 controversy by a single judge in a single court.

27 48. The Class may be certified pursuant to Rule 23(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil 28 Procedure because Defendants have acted on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby

1 making final injunctive relief and corresponding declaratory relief appropriate with respect to the 2 claims raised by the Class.

3 49. The Class may also be certified pursuant to Rule 23(b)(3) of the Federal Rules of 4 Civil Procedure because questions of law and fact common to members of the Class will 5 predominate over questions affecting individual members, and a class action is superior to other 6 methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy and causes of action described in this 7 Complaint.

17 53. The Civil Remedy Statutes for Recovery of Gambling Losses prohibit a person from 18 profiting from gambling activity and provide for the recovery of money paid and lost due to such 19 gambling activity.

20 54. By purchasing coins from Google to wager on the Grande Games Casino Apps, 21 Plaintiff and each member of the Multistate Class gambled and lost money within the meaning of 22 the Civil Remedy Statute for Recovery of Gambling Losses.

23 55. Google has profited and continues to profit from gambling activity in violation of the 24 Civil Remedy Statute for Recovery of Gambling Losses by: (1) providing marketing guidance, tools, 25 promotional offers and more to help drive discovery of Grande Games Casino Apps and in-app 26 purchases; (2) contributing to the creation and development of Grande Games Casino Apps; and (3) 27 offering and distributing the Grande Games Casino Apps through Google Play and selling in-app 28 purchases for the Grande Games Casino Apps in exchange for a significant percentage of the money

1 paid and lost by Plaintiff and the members of the Class to gamble using the Grande Games Casino 2 Apps.

3 56. Plaintiff and the members of the Class are, therefore, entitled to recover from Google 4 the amounts they lost when gambling on the Grande Games Casino Apps through Google Play.

5 COUNT II

6 UNJUST ENRICHMENT

7 57. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates the preceding paragraphs, as if fully set forth 8 herein.

9 58. Plaintiff brings this claim on behalf of herself and the Multistate Class under the 10 common law of unjust enrichment, which is materially uniform in the states of Alabama, Arkansas, 11 Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, 12 Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oregon, South 13 Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia. In the 14 alternative, Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of each State Class under the common law of each 15 state, which is materially uniform in all such states.

16 59. As a result of its unlawful conduct described above, Google has and will continue to 17 be unjustly enriched to the detriment of Plaintiff and Class members by virtue of their purchase of 18 coins from Google to wager on the Grande Games Casino Apps through Google Play.

19 60. Google has profited immensely by providing marketing guidance, tools, and 20 promotional offers to Grande Games.

21 61. These profits were obtained in violation of the Civil Remedy Statutes for Recovery 22 of Gambling Losses.

23 62. These profits were a benefit conferred upon Google by Class members when 24 purchasing coins to wager on the Grande Games Casino Apps.

25 63. Accordingly, because Google will be unjustly enriched if it is allowed to retain the 26 illegal profits from the Grande Games Casino Apps, Plaintiff and each Class member are entitled to 27 recover the amount by which Google was unjustly enriched at their expense.
